JAMES AND LILY BURFORD

submitted by Beatrice Fulton

James and Lily Burford were married in England on April 5, 1913, immigrating to Canada later that year. In the spring of 1914, my father James Burford worked for a Mr. Davidson, who dug the big Ditch through the marsh and northward. My mother Lily Burford cooked for the dredge crew until the fall of 1914. She had to leave as I arrived on the scene October 23. My father purchased a quarter of land in the hopes of building our home there. It was approximately three and one-half miles west of Amaranth. In 1916 my father enlisted in the Army and went overseas. Unfortunately he was killed in 1917, leaving a wife and two daughters. We made our home with mother's brother, James Vowels in the Hollywood District. Mother went out to work, a housekeeping job for a bachelor so Irene and I could go to school in Langruth.

In 1934, Mr. James Rollins, the bachelor, bought land across the road from my father's quarter section where he built a home. In the early 50's my mother sold our quarter section to a Mr. and Mrs. Joe Berg.

Mr. Rollins, originally from Renfrew County in Ontario, worked for the C.P.R. in the 1890's and in 1900 went to Clanwilliam, Manitoba
