THE MOUNTAIN LABORED AND BROUGHT FORTH A MOUSE.

"It is rumored upon the streets that the South-western Railway Company is hatching a plot by means of which it is hoped, that the bill by-law may be defeated. The matter reported said to have been determined upon is, if correct, by no means an exact account with the past history of the South-western."

"Then, when but a trifling number of citizens have voted, and nearly all of these, probably in favor of the by-law, at the last hour a grand rally will be made by these voters over whom the South-Western has control."

"The great majority of our citizens," who read the Specialty Organ, "saw to it" and they number exactly one hundred and thirty (130)!

"We think however that it was very mean of the Southwesterns not to come swooping along, towards the close of the polls with that 'Grand Rally'."

"TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN. We can easily fancy that the appearance of a live, independent, newspaper in this city, which speaks of persons and things in a fearless and impartial manner has aroused a novel but disagreeable sensation in the breasts of some individuals who have been accustomed, hitherto, to a continuous flow of flattery."

"We have been led to make the above few remarks by the unmanly conduct of certain parties who have backed themselves in efforts to intimidate a reporter of this paper."

And in the country for unwarlike expectations. Whether gloomy or otherwise.—London Truth.

Wendell Phillips should not forget that Guitcan has no avowed champion. Ex-Attorney Gen. Devens and his daughter had the honor to be overturned in a Newark stage coach driven by Hanni Monk.

The principal anxiety of the New York politicians seems to be regarding the probable action of Rose and Samny in the State conventions.

Contributions to this column from ladies and gentlemen will be gladly received. All communications will be treated confidentially.

An impertinent correspondent thinks that "the young lady who wears the black straw hat jammed down over her eyes might just as well give the public a look at her pretty face."

Why be grey? A rejuvenating article has at length been discovered. It is the celebrated 'RACINE RESTORER.'

IN THE PRESS. THE LAND PROSPECTOR'S Manual and Field Book.
