

SMILES.
 We're looking at you.
 Tread softly—'t be seen.
 Biting her lip.
 There's something in her eye.
 The boot-jack on.
 All her soft, furry hair.
 Covered with dust.
 She that was young and fair.
 Gone on the lead.
 Aim for her heart.
 Give her one whack.
 Lay it on violently.
 Right on her back.

Footpads—Corl: soler.
 Fine animals—Ground ticks.
 A coal dealer calls his son: "Fitter."
 Another star-route—The milky way.
 The tone of the British press—Gladstone.

Is the jelly-fish made from ocean-currants?
 A green grocer—One that credits everybody.
 Why wouldn't Phebe be a good name for a lawyer's wife?
 Out in Montana, when they start a mandown hill in a barrel, they speak of his "appearance in a new role."
 Now is the time when even the poor newspaper man gets a chance to handle a cool million—a cool watermillion.—Texas Siftings.
 An editor without a backbone don't amount to much. It's his principal column you know.
 Recorder—"You are very going to be standing for a living. Are you going to make that your profession?" "Yes, sir; my father wants me to learn the rudiments thoroughly before I run for office."
 Nobody likes to be the subject of a put up job, yet few will decline an umbrella on a rainy day.
 If you want to employ a whitewasher, contract with him to whitewash the floors, the furniture, and everything but the ceiling. Then he may get round whitewash on the ceiling.
 The candle-wick is up to snuff.
 The cream of a joke should never be sour.
 Usually "throughly daylight."
 Sleep.
 An "Indian Idol" was recently ploverd up in Superior, and they don't know whether it's a god or a devil. If it has a handle on and holds about two gallons, it's a Superior god.
 If a smoker were to chew up his cigar and swallow it, that would be a cigarette, wouldn't it?
 A fruit dealer advertises peaches by the basket—every basket warranted—but is wisely silent about the peaches.
 Saratoga gets 10,000 letters a day, and no one wants to be postmaster these days.
 Never scare off a fly with a club when a feather will do as well.
 A new novel is called "Man Pro poses." It is certainly not a leap-year story.
 A kiss on the forehead of some of our modern girls is a sort of a saluum bang salutation.
 It is peculiar the awful veneration which the small boy has for a companion whose father is a policeman.
 When a New Orleans man wanted his picture in a heroic attitude, the artist painted him in the act of refusing to drink.—Boston Transcript.
 "I say, 'Glem,'" cried two disputing dandies, appealing for decision to a sable umpire; "which word is right—dianctly or dazactly?" The sable umpire reflected a moment, and then, with a look of wisdom, said: "I can't tell, perzactly."
 One can't be too careful of firearms. A Winnipeg boy carried a pistol in his coat pocket, and one day while he was in swimming, the pistol unexpectedly went off. He has no suspicions as to who took it.
 "Don't waste your time in chopping off the branches," said the woodman to his son, "but lay your axe at the root of the tree." And the young man went out and laid his axe at the root of the tree like a good and dutiful boy, and then went fishing. Truly there is nothing so beautiful as filial obedience.

The degree of D. D. has been conferred on the General Baggage Agent of the Central Pacific. This degree is every day conferred on baggage agents, but two small d's are considered sufficient to express the idea.
 Ex-District Attorney George Bliss, of New York, at the request of Postmaster-General James, will act as counsel in the prosecution of the Star Route cases.
 Rounds and Shay, who murdered Frank Garrity in May last at Hudson, Wis., have been taken to Menomonee for trial.
 A genius is a man who can write paragraphs when he has a corn on his foot the size of a bay-window.
